Allendale Square

Chicken Rice Corner brings Singapore's signature dish and other delectable Asian delights to Perth. Our challenge was to design and fit out a tiny space with a shopfront that stood out amongst the many options, concealing a highly compact, highly functional kitchen within.

Colourful metal chickens playfully adorned the illuminated shopfront ensuring the little shop brightly and vibrantly stood out in the moody atmosphere of the food court.

Working closely with the client, we incorporated a full functioning kitchen of cool rooms and chillers, freezers, burners and ovens, noodle cookers and prep areas. This equipped our client to produce over 2000 dishes within 2 hours of the lunch rush and pump out all required products to multiple locations across Perth, daily.
